"Boudi Canteen is a light-hearted story about an aspiring woman entrepreneur and her struggle to fulfil her passion. It was a pleasure for me to direct such an ensemble of talented artists for the first time. Shubhashree here is a revelation while Soham is awesome. Joy Sarkar's music has perfectly blended with the storyline. Watch it to revel in the modern story of following your dreams", said Mr Parambrata Chattopadhyay.

The trailer launch, today, was attended by Parambrata Chattopadhyay, Shubhashree Ganguly, Anusua Majumdar, Pushan Dasgupta, Joy Sarkar, Srijato, Aritra Sen etc.

Boudi Canteen narrates the story of Poulami, a young and involved housewife, who is an ardent home chef. Alas, her talent is firmly denied by her mother-in-law, Surabhi, who dismisses it as a common trait in most women. However, there comes a time when Poulami becomes the production head of her own Food Business creating her fabulous range of dishes. The husband, being supportive of his wife's talents, agrees and the business floats. The couple, though, were zipped up regarding giving the news to the matriarch in the household. The business gradually booms. But the mother-in-law, Surabhi, gets to know about Poulami running a food business and comes down heavily on her, which makes her leave the house. The story then takes an interesting turn.

To know the rest, you will have to wait till 30th September, 2022 when Boudi Canteen releases across Multiplexes and Single Screens.
